

The taste of exception

Family-run business demonstrates generations of skill in producing award-winning wines.

In the loving hands of the Van Doren family for three generations, the Domaine de l'Anglade is the only winery in the heart of Le Lavandou, the Var.

Surrounded by pine forests and Provence cane is a field of 40 hectares, 18 of which are dedicated to vines, integrated into lush vegetation and situated beside a glistening Mediterranean sea.

It is here that owner-grower Bernard Van Doren produces his award winning wines.

The Domaine de l'Anglade's artistic skill in selecting grape varieties is matched by its ability to meet strict production conditions, allowing wines to bear the quality classification of Maures (Indication Géographique Protégée).

Vines are cultivated traditionally, without herbicides or chemical fertilisers. Harvesting is done by hand in the early morning to preserve freshness and the subtle aromas of the berries. The grass covering the ground helps to improve the soil condition as well as benefitting the local biodiversity and acting as a natural defence against erosion.

The cellar where the wines are left to age is built from natural rock, providing optimum temperature and humidity control. It also provides a wonderful setting in which to taste the wines in small groups (by appointment).

With this combined magic, the wines from the Domaine de l'Anglade have, over the decades, secured their pedigree, enabling them to grace some of the greatest tables of France.

A palette of colours: pink, white & red

The Domain de l'Anglade specialises in using several different varieties of grapes including six types of black grapes. It is between the end of August and early September that the harvest begins, in the purest tradition. The grapes are picked during the cool mornings by hand in order to preserve the freshness and integrity of the berries until they enter the press. For the rose and white wines, the grapes are de-stemmed before being trodden under foot. For red wines, the grapes are de-stemmed and placed in vats for maceration.

Two rosé vintages are available: the fresh and delicious Cuvée Tradition and the fine and elegant Rosé d'Anna. Then the white wine, Le Blanc, reveals a dry and cool character. The three red wines: Rouge Grenache Syrah, Merlot Longue Macération, and the exceptional Cuvée du Brocard... are pure Cabernet Sauvignon aged in French oak.
